

CORPS BADGES.

A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, writing from Huntsville, Alabama, says, the troops which came here from the Army of the Potomac brought with them various ornamental habits and customs that were new to the Western soldiers. Among them was the corps badge which designated the corps to which officers and men were attached. For instance, the badge of the Eleventh Corps is a crescent, that of the Twelfth a star. The badge is made of any material, gold, silver, or red flannel, and is worn conspicuously on some part of the clothing. The Western corps have no such badge. How an Irishman explained the matter is thus told: A soldier came by the headquarters of Gen. Butterfield, a tired and weatherbeaten straggler. He was one of those who made Sherman's march from Memphis to Chattanooga, then to Knoxville, and was now returning in the terrible cold of that returning march, thinly clad, one foot covered with a badly-worn army shoe, the other with a piece of raw hide bound with strings about a sockless foot—both feet cut and bleeding. "Arms at will," he trudged past the headquarters' guard, intent only upon overtaking his regiment. "Halt," said a sentinel with a bright piece, clean uniform, and white gloves. "What do you belong to?" "Eighth Mississippi, sure."

"What division?"
"Morgan L. Smith's av course."
"What brigade?"
"Giles Smith's Second Brigade, of the Second Division."
"But what army corps?"
"The Fifteenth, you fool. I am one of the heroes of Vicksburg. Anything more, Mr. Sentinel?"
"Where is your badge?"
"My badge, is it; what is that?"
"Do you see this star on my cap? That is the badge of the Twelfth corps. That crescent on my partner's cap is the badge of the Eleventh corps."

"I see now. That is how yez Potomack fellers gits home w dark nights. Ye take the moon and shits with ye."
"But what is the badge of your corps?"
Making a right about and slapping his cartridge box, our soldier replied:
"Dye see that? A cartridge box—with U. S. on a brass plate and forty rounds in the box—and sixty rounds in our pockets. That's the badge of the Fifteenth, that came from Vicksburg to help ye fight Chattanooga."

A WOMAN'S TRICK.—The last phase of the "confidence game" was developed recently by a female in Cincinnati. The woman, having an earthen vessel in her apron, entered a grocery store and bought a pound of coffee. Removing the lid she dropped the coffee in said vessel, replaced the lid, and was about to pay for it, when she discovered she had forgotten to bring her money. Not to have her honesty suspected, she said she would leave her purchase till she went home and got her money, and accordingly set her crockery on the counter, where it remained until the grocer thought something must be wrong, and on removing the lid, he found there was no bottom to the vessel, and of course the woman had gone off with the coffee in her apron.

Two recruits from Vermont, named Mat Riley, alias John Roach, and Charles Carpenter, neither of whom had been assigned to any regiment, have recently been tried and found guilty of desertion by a general court martial at the "Depot for drafted men," at Long Island, Boston Harbor, and sentenced to be shot. The sentence has been approved by Major General Dix, who has appointed Friday, the 22d inst., as the day for execution. The officer in command at Fort Warren is charged with the execution of the sentence.

The new two-cent piece looks like gold; a wreath of wheat surrounding "2 cents," and around which are the words "United States of America, form one side. The shield of Liberty, and the words, "God our Trust," make up the converse side.

A car loaded with tow caught fire from a spark from the locomotive, near Arlington, last week Tuesday, and was burned.

THE COPPERHEAD DIET.—The Rutland Courier publishes a blasphemous parody on the Lord's Prayer, which ends as follows:
"Lead us not into northern or southern fanaticism, but deliver us from amalgamation with niggers, for Thine is the kingdom, Gen. Geo. B. McClellan forever. Amen."

STATE OF VERMONT.
Supreme Court, Lamolite County, August Term, 1863.
WHERAS, Elery X. Adams, of Hyde Park, in the county of Lamolite and state of Vermont, has exhibited his petition in said Court against Mary Jane Adams, his wife, setting forth, in substance, that he was married to her, the said Mary Jane, at Wolcott, in said county, on the 22d day of April 1855, and lived with her until about the 12th day of August 1856, in the observance of the duties required by the marriage relation; when without cause the said Mary Jane wilfully deserted the petitioner and never returned, but still remains absent from him. And further setting forth that the said Mary Jane, since her intermarriage with the petitioner, has committed the crime of adultery with divers men, and been guilty of gross and infamous behavior with divers other men in such a manner as to leave no doubt of illicit intercourse with them. And further setting forth that said Mary Jane, wife of the petitioner, since her intermarriage with him, has committed the crime of adultery with one Alonzo Gladding. Which petition was returned to the Supreme Court to be held at Hyde Park, within and for the county of Lamolite aforesaid, on the 3d Tuesday of August, A. D. 1863, and in which the petitioner prays that the bonds of matrimony between him and the said Mary Jane be dissolved and a divorce granted. And it being made to appear to said court that the said Mary Jane does not reside within this state, but, on the contrary, is residing in parts unknown, and that she is without this state, beyond the reach of process, and no notice to said Mary Jane having been proved, it was ordered by said court that the said Mary Jane Adams be notified of the pendency of said petition and summoned to appear in said court on the third Tuesday of August, A. D. 1864, to be held at Hyde Park, within and for the county of Lamolite aforesaid, and show cause why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, by the publication of the foregoing substance of said petition, together with this order, in the Lamolite Newsdealer, a weekly newspaper published at Hyde Park, in said county of Lamolite, three weeks successively, the last of which publications to be at least six weeks before the session of said court, at the term thereof last aforesaid; and that in default of the appearance of the said Mary Jane Adams the court will proceed ex parte.
By order of the Supreme Court,
L. S. SMALL, Attorney.
